

Elizabeth's Fiance Is Man's Man And Bobby Soxer's Ideal

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, July 10—Princess Elizabeth chose for her husband a man whom untold thousands of her future subjects would marry if they had the chance.
Lt. Philip Mountbatten is a man's man and a bobby-soxer's ideal as well.
And not only wistful poor girls but some of Britain's most glittering debutantes have cast their eyes on him.
He is tall, fair-haired, blue-eyed and has the profile of a classic Greek statue. Slightly reserved, as befits a public school product, he smiles easily and says the right things to women. In naval uniform, he looks like something out of a tailor's ad.

At 26, Mountbatten has the broad shoulders that helped him become an outstanding soccer player at school. He dances perfectly and often. He drives a car as fast as the law allows.
Social position? Philip is a great-grandson of Queen Victoria who was Princess Elizabeth's great-grandmother. Until he became a British subject and renounced his title last March, Philip was a prince of Greece and Denmark, sixth in line for the Greek throne.

One thing he may lack as the perfect husband—money. He has little of his own, but his uncle, Viscount Mountbatten, has wads of the stuff, and Elizabeth's income will be for all practical purposes unlimited when she becomes queen.
Born in Corfu June 10, 1921, Philip has as complicated an ancestry as any European royal personage. His father, Prince Andrew of Greece, was a younger son of Prince William of Denmark, who accepted the Greek throne as George I in 1863.
Philip's mother, Princess Alice, was the eldest daughter of Prince Louis of Battenberg, a German who acquired British citizenship in 1868 and was first sea lord at the outbreak of World War I. He changed his name to the less German Mountbatten in 1917.

Thus young Philip, taken into exile at Paris with his family at the age of one, has no Greek blood in his veins. He speaks almost no Greek, and his English has the "upper class" accent of the public school—or what Americans call a private school.
Since he was eight, Philip has been brought up in England and Scotland by Viscount Mountbatten, for many years the playboy "Lord Louis" who became one of World War II's top admirals and, later, Viceroy of India.

Princess Elizabeth and her sister Margaret were among Philip's childhood playmates at the fabulously luxurious Mountbatten home in London's Park Lane.
After schooling at Cheltenham and Gordonstoun in Scotland, Philip entered Dartmouth naval college in 1939. He made the first football eleven and won the King's Dirk as the outstanding cadet of his year.
During the war he served as a midshipman on various cruisers and battleships. He was second in command on the Destroyer Wallace during the Sicily landings and was mentioned in dispatches as searchlight officer of the Battleship Valiant in the Battle of Matapan.

Rumors linking him with Elizabeth first trickled out of royalist circles in Athens. They were at first ignored, then denied. But Philip was frequently a house guest of the British royal family, and a widely published photograph of him dancing with the princess kept romance rumors alive.
Throughout the recurrent hullaboo—some Leftist elements opposed the match because of Philip's link with the Greek royal house—Philip displayed a talent for keeping out of the limelight that should stand him in good stead as the husband of a reigning queen.

A prince consort, by well-established constitutional tradition, should be seen but not heard—in anything affecting the government of the British empire. Queen Victoria's husband, Albert, broke the rule and got into trouble. Philip is unlikely to repeat the mistake.
He is, however, no stranger to statecraft. "Uncle Dickie," as he calls Lord Mountbatten, taught him much. He also has read widely in politics and naval affairs and at one time was a frequent visitor at sessions of both houses of parliament.

Lecturing on current affairs to enlisted men of the Royal Navy was his chief assignment after World War II. For all the men's traditional suspicion of "toff" officers, they listened to him intently and like him. Also, they said, he wasn't afraid to get his hands dirty.
One story about Philip's "common touch" is told by a newspaperman who attended a society wedding. Looking around for someone to carry a message, he beckoned to a blond youngster who cheerfully ran his errand, the reporter didn't know until later that his messenger was Prince Philip of Greece and Denmark.

Great Britain Jubilant Over "Lilybet's" News

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, July 10—A radiant Princess Elizabeth, her eyes sparkling like the three-diamond engagement ring that glistened on her third finger, received best wishes from all parts of the world today on her betrothal to Lt. Philip Mountbatten.
"We are very, very happy," she told a friend as she leaped through pile after pile of congratulatory messages in Buckingham palace, where her handsome blond fiance also was in residence.
Outside the vast gray palace, whose gloomy exterior gave no evidence of the happiness within, a crowd that swelled to more than 2,000 stood in steady rain for a glimpse of "Princess Lilybet" when she left with her family for a Westminster Abbey ceremony.
Hurrahs and shouts of "Good luck" rang out as the royal family left in a limousine for the Abbey.
The slender, blue-eyed Elizabeth, sitting beside demure Princess Margaret, smiled happily and waved acknowledgment. A faint blush tinged her cheeks.

George unveiled a new memorial chapel to the flyers who saved the country from invasion in the Battle of Britain.
Lt. Mountbatten, on 14-day leave from his naval establishment in Wiltshire, did not accompany the royal family.
The announcement of the royal engagement and speculation over plans for the wedding—the date for which is to be set within a few days—temporarily stole the spotlight from international politics and domestic economic problems.
The general belief was that the 21-year-old heiress apparent to the throne would marry within a year.

15 Passengers See Newsboy Crushed

NEW YORK, July 10.—At least 15 passengers in a subway coach saw Anthony Manno, 11-year-old newsboy, carried to his death yesterday while clinging to the side of the coach.
Police said that any one of them could have prevented the accident by pulling the emergency stop cord, but all sat transfixed.
The boy, after clinging to the coach for seven blocks on an elevated section of the line, was crushed between the coach and a station structure when the train came into the station. He had grabbed at the center post of the coach doorway just as the doors slid shut.
With the rubber-edged doors closed around his hand, the boy managed to keep a foothold on the two-inch sill on the outside of the doorway until he was smashed against the shed.

Approximately 60 attended a township roads improvement meeting, held Wednesday evening in the Lisbon American Legion home. The meeting was called by County Commissioner John E. Smith.
A proposal for improving the roads was discussed, along with the possibility of passing a one mill levy for five years to cover the costs.
The committee composed of Smith, Auditor I. J. Vondran and W. E. Stratton of Salem township, was appointed to confer with Prosecutor Frank Springer on the legality of putting the levy on the November ballot.

Work was begun today by the Killen-Haessly Construction Co., with plans calling for completion of the 60 by 140 foot building by Oct. 1. Paparodis is erecting the building to the specifications of the Kroger Co., he said, and will lease the property to the store for on S. Broadway.

CANTON MINE OWNER OBJECTS TO CONTRACT

(By Associated Press)
CANTON, July 10—Union miners stayed away from the little coal mine operated by J. G. Thoma today after he balked at one stipulation in John L. Lewis' new work contract.
The item Thoma disliked was the levy of 10 cents a ton for the United Mine Workers' welfare fund, so he told his 30 employees that hereafter the mine would be operated on a non-union basis.
"They say the money goes into the union welfare fund," said Thoma, "but it's John Lewis that hands it out."
But he conceded it would be "pretty hard" to obtain non-union help, and asked his workers to come back Monday for his final decision.

The miners, apprised of Thoma's position, quickly decided to go home yesterday, and returned later only to procure their pay checks and ask for job releases.
The mine is near Malvern, south of here in Carroll county, and produces about 35,000 tons a year.

FIVE NATIONS REFUSE PART IN CONFERENCE

Economic Conference, To Open Saturday, Will Include 17 Others

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, July 10—Attendance of at least 17 nations at a Soviet-boycotted European Economic conference was assured today—the last day for replies to invitations issued by Britain and France. The conference will start here Saturday.
Two nations friendly to Russia—Finland and Albania—still were to be heard from.
Five others in the same class—Poland, Yugoslavia, Romania, Hungary and Bulgaria—had turned down their invitations.
They were the only ones to do so among the 22 nations invited by the two sponsoring governments. Their stand followed the lead of Russia, whose Foreign Minister V. N. Molotov opposed the conference in three-power talks ended in Paris a week ago yesterday.

Czechs Will Take Part
Czechoslovakia, which has close political and economic ties with the Soviet union, and Austria, where some Russian troops still are stationed, have decided to take part in the conference.
In the invitations, distributed last Thursday, Britain and France proposed that participants in the conference set up committees to survey Europe's resources and needs in a move to get United States aid in continental reconstruction.
Secretary of State George C. Marshall offered such aid, provided Europe took the initiative in recovery planning, in a Harvard university speech June 5.
Countries which have signified their intention of taking part, in addition to Czechoslovakia and Austria, are Britain, France, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Iceland, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Switzerland, Elre, Portugal, Italy, Greece and Turkey. Franco Spain was not invited.
Poland and Yugoslavia rejected conference bids last night. The Polish action was announced after a four-hour cabinet meeting in Warsaw. Yugoslavia's negative reply followed several days of government discussions. Hungary today officially refused to participate.
In her official rejection, Yugoslavia complained that she had not been consulted before the invitations were sent. She added that she already had made long-term agreements with numerous countries and done much toward reconstruction with her own means and that "therefore we cannot accept a program of economic life."
Indications were that some blocs of countries would come to the conference with their own plans to supplement the tentative agenda proposed by Britain and France.

The plant employs about 100 men. Iron power and hand pumps are its principal output.

Active Mamma Fire Department Mascot Can't Miss Fire, Even For Blessed Event

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 10—"Bum," a young brown and black fox terrier, wandered into a west side fire station a year ago and promptly was named mascot of Engine Company 103.
Bum never missed a fire, always riding on the fire engine. But because of the dog's approaching motherhood, Lt. Jerry McEligott had ordered her placed on a leash.

Yesterday when an alarm came in Bum broke the leash and leaped aboard the fire engine. She stayed on the engine and while firemen extinguished a small fire with hand pumps her first pup was born.
Her engine sped back to the station and Firemen Tim Maty and Frank Wietem moved Bum and the pup into the dog's bed. Five more pups were born.
The first was named "Smoky," and will fill standing request from the Fire Station No. 8 for a mascot. The others already have been requested by residents near the firehouse. Bum will stay at Engine Company 103.

Finds New 'Saucer' In Geranium Bed

(By Associated Press)
NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif., July 10.—A saucer-shaped mechanical contraption, resembling a chicken brooder top with a few gadgets added, was found in a geranium bed at the home of Construction Engineer Russell Long last night and the first official reaction was from Fire Battalion Chief Wallace E. Newcombe who looked at it skeptically said:
"It doesn't look to me like it could fly."
Call Fire Department
Long called the Van Nuys fire department and excitedly pointed to the metal saucer, 30 inches in diameter, which he said had been belching smoke from two exhaust pipes and emitting a blue-white glare.

The office of Richard B. Hood, Federal investigation chief here, said an FBI man had taken a look at the device and that it would be turned over to military authorities. The FBI office said Hood had no other comment.
Chief Newcombe exhibited the object. A radio tube on top was set down into the upper half of the saucer which was about five inches thick at the middle and tapered to a thin perimeter. There were wires leading to a plug embedded in the center of the lower half. There was a rudder-type wing on top.
Long told reporters that he was awakened by a pop, not as loud as an explosion, and that he rushed outside to find the device. He declared that the object had nudged a few bricks out of the border of his flower bed.

TRUMAN SAYS ATOM THEFT IS EXPLAINED

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 10.—Senator Hickenlooper's (R-Iowa) statement yesterday on the removal and recovery of atomic energy files was described by President Truman today as a clear explanation of what happened.
The subject came up at a news conference when a reporter asked Mr. Truman if any other papers were missing besides those which were taken from a New Mexico project by two army sergeants.

The president replied that Senator Hickenlooper had clearly explained the situation to the senate yesterday.

In the house, Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.) voiced a demand that congress be given the names and backgrounds of the two army sergeants involved.

"It is simply silly," to say the men took the files as souvenirs, Rankin told the house. "Why didn't Benedict Arnold and his crowd think of that?"

WHITE HOUSE WATCHES FOR PRICE RISE

Anticipate Spiral Since Coal Miners Won Such Large Increases

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 10.—The White House watched closely today for signs of any new wage-price spiral growing out of the record pay boost won by John L. Lewis for his 400,000 soft coal miners.
Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of President Truman's three-man council of economic advisers, told a reporter the council is studying the possible impact of the coal settlement on the nation's economy.
He added the council will wrap up its findings in a mid-year report to be submitted to the President later this week.
The administration, however, showed no signs of reopening the mine wage controversy by proceeding against the operators under the Taft-Hartley Labor act as Rep. Hartley (R-NJ) declared it could do.

Calls Contract "Violation"
The co-author of the union curb measure insisted in a house speech late yesterday that the contract provision under which the mine owners agree not only to check off union dues but initiation fees and assessments as well is a "clear violation of the act."
He contended that only union dues may be withheld from workers' paychecks and that in going beyond that field the operators "agreed to pay money for an illegal reason."
Lashing out, too, at the provision that the miners need work only when "able and willing" to do so, Hartley said the law meant for labor unions "to become responsible organizations."
"In my opinion," the lawmaker declared, "this agreement clearly reflects collusion between the mine operators and the UMW with the intention of violating the law."
Hartley said the operators who signed could be charged under the act and, if convicted, would face a $10,000 fine and one year in prison.

He added that no action could be taken against Lewis, because the law forbids payment of money, except for withheld dues, to "representatives of employees" but says nothing about the employers' representatives accepting it.
Senator Taft (R-Ohio) had no comment on Hartley's contention. The Ohio senator had said shortly after the contract agreement was announced that the new law he helped write contemplated employers and employees settling their own disputes.

COAL PRODUCTION NEARING NORMAL

Miners All Over U. S. Go Back To Pits After Record Raise

PITTSBURGH, July 10.—The nation's bituminous production spurred toward normal today as "able and willing" AFL-miners from the North and South dug coal under terms of a new and unprecedented wage agreement.
Southern mine operators — last holders of the "take-it-or-leave-it" terms of John L. Lewis — capitulated yesterday. The vast West Virginia and East Kentucky bituminous mine interests signed first, leaving less than 10 percent of the nation's soft coal production unaccounted for.
However, mines in Virginia and Tennessee were described as temporarily withholding signature because they feared collision with state laws regulating the closed shop and dues checkoff.

The only sour note came from Washington where Rep. Fred Hartley (R-NJ) co-author of the Taft-Hartley Labor act, warned that coal operators risk criminal prosecution for signing the Lewis contract. He claimed it violates the new labor act.
Lawrence J. Tierney Jr., a signer and a spokesman for the Southern Association, summed up the employers' reaction to Hartley's charge:
"If we're wrong, we're perfectly willing to be wrong. And we hope Fred Hartley is right. I hope we'll be able to pick comfortable cells. We'll probably have good companionship."
Virtually normal production in the northern, western and mid-western coal fields was expected today. Nearly 135,000 of the 300,000 miners covered by the northern signing reported yesterday.

Many of the south's 100,000 coal diggers also prepared to work today although industry sources did not expect normal operations there until the end of the week.

ANNOUNCEMENT AROUSES IRE OF CONGRESS

Representatives, Senators Indicate Override May Be Forthcoming

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 10.—President Truman's announcement today that he will veto the new $4,000,000,000 income tax-cutting bill spurred his congressional supporters for an intensified drive to override his forthcoming rejection.
Republican leaders, joined by some Democrats, expressed defiance in their reaction to Mr. Truman's statement at his news conference that he can see no reason to change his attitude toward the measure since it is the same bill, except for effective date, that he vetoed before.
The outburst came as the senate began consideration of the legislation which already has been passed overwhelmingly in the house.
Senate passage is certain. Generally congressional leaders concede the house will vote to override, since it passed the bill by a thumping 302 to 112 vote.

Something New, Senator Says
"It's the first time I ever knew a president to veto a bill in advance," Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) of the finance committee said as he called the bill up in the senate. He told reporters he was surprised at Mr. Truman's "prejudgment" of the issue.
Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.), the Republican whip, when told of the veto announcement, said: "Well, he's going to get a chance to veto it."
Senator Stewart (D-Tenn.), leaving a conference of Democratic senators on the tax question, said he has not changed his position.
"I am going to vote for the bill and to override the veto," Stewart declared.

Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) commented: "I still hope there is no veto, but if there is one I'm quite sure the house will override. I hope after looking carefully into the situation, the president will find it possible to give adequate tax relief in January."
Senator Aiken (R-Vt.) said: "I was not enthusiastic about bringing it up again now, but I wouldn't say that I wouldn't vote to override a veto."

In his rejection of the previous tax bill, Mr. Truman said the Republican-controlled congress had approved "the wrong kind of tax reduction at the wrong time." That legislation made the effective date July 1. The new bill makes the effective date six months later.
Mr. Truman first disclosed his decision on the tax bill which would become effective Jan. 1, to Senator Barkley, the senate Democratic leader.

Barkley Opposed
Barkley, telling reporters then of the decision, was asked what his attitude will be when the bill comes up on the senate floor.

"I'm opposed to it," he said, adding he would fight it on the floor. Then he said Mr. Truman is opposed to it and will "veto it." Asked if a second veto could be sustained in the senate, Barkley said "I hope so."

The measure was approved, 10-3

Place Your Bets

The effect of the automatic adjournment written into the Congressional Reorganization Act last year is to make Congress do what it usually wants to do anyway—go home before dog days start. The act provides adjournment by the end of July, unless war or other national emergency exists, or unless Congress itself decides on another adjournment date.

Thus, the odds in the future will favor adjournment by the end of July. But the odds in the first year's operation of the Congressional Reorganization Act favor another adjournment date. This is so, despite the fact Republican leadership in Congress has selected July 26 as the tentative date for winding up the first session of the 80th Congress. There are two reasons.

One is the probability that events abroad may force definite action on the Truman-Marshall doctrine this summer. The other is the recent decision of President Truman to break his truce with Congress and wage war with its leaders. It is certain to occur to them that there might be marked advantages for him in having Congress out of town until next January.

For many years, guessing when Congress would go home has been a summer pastime, interrupted only by wars and threats of wars. The pastime supposedly was interrupted by the Congressional Reorganization Act. But it looks as if it had at least one more year to run. In view of the fact that Congress will want to go home to campaign next year, a protracted session this year is an odds-on bet.

A Deadline Passes

A day slipped by last week almost unnoticed. It was the last day on which court martial proceedings could have been instituted against Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel and Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, navy and army commanders in Hawaii at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack.

When it was called to his attention, Senator Ferguson, on the committee which investigated the attack, said it didn't make any difference. He asked, "Why should these men have been subjected to a trial when their top commanders in Washington were exonerated?"

Senator Ferguson might have gone even farther. The nation also was guilty. It had become overconfident, convinced nothing would happen because it didn't want anything to happen. That's an attitude we must guard against lest it bring another Pearl Harbor disaster on us. Only in case of another surprise attack it wouldn't be at an installation 2,200 miles off the coast. It would be where it really hurt.

Tuning Up

John L. Lewis has been the petriol for the present, attention is turned to James C. Petrillo who is getting restive again in the interests of his American Federation of Musicians. He says when the recording contract expires Jan. 1 he's going to stop union members from making records. In February, when the radio contract expires, he says he'll stop them from making music for the networks. "Anyhow, that's the way I feel right now," he says.

The musicians' mahatma always relies on the dark view of the future as a bargaining wedge, and it has forced some very lucrative working arrangements for A. F. of M. members. It's highly probable that between now and the first of the year some arrangement can be worked out. It always has been in the past, come contract time. The jukebox and other purveyors of canned music are here to stay and Petrillo knows it.

They'll Never Approve

The suggestion has been made that, instead of granting Hawaii statehood, it be incorporated into California.

This proposal will not be received cordially in the islands. Hawaiians have had their hearts set on statehood for almost 50 years. They know very well if they became Californians it would be only a matter of time until there would be signs on Waikiki Beach reading, "Los Angeles City Limits."

Summer Days

Now is the time when the frost is on the lemonade beaker, and Sirius, the dog star, begins its summer ascent.

The Fourth of July is past. Labor Day is a mere speck on the horizon. The lawn chairs justify the money spent on them and the lawn mowers are paying off their investment with ample dividends of shade. The back-yard gardener rubs a pinch of soil between his fingers and finds that it is good. The first tomatoes, he notes, are beginning to blush and the grape arbor gives promise of a good yield seven or eight weeks hence.

It's a season of ripening, of the first bloom of maturity. The yellows and the browning greens of September aren't yet in evidence. The sun's rays are hot and direct, not the pale, oblique shafts of spring or autumn. All growing things receive them gratefully. So summer's benison settles upon mountain, upon valley, upon plain, and upon John Q. Citizen's quarter-acre, complete with mortgage.

The Stars Say
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE
For Friday, July 11

WHILE affairs seem to move along progressively and toward dramatic goals of accomplishment, according to major aspects, yet some strange break, error of judgment, irregular move in the wrong direction, might undermine or disastrously involve promising conditions. Misrepresentation, trickiness or an attempt to "put over" some sinister policy, might undermine good work and merit opposition from those in high places. Probity, integrity win out.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may look for a lively and exciting state of affairs, with much promise for a progressive and eventful year, in which matters out of the ordinary may transpire. However, a devastating and abrupt development may jeopardize this, particularly should trickiness, false moves or expediency call down the wrath of those whose support is imperative. Sound plans based upon principle and probity should avert disruption.

A child born on this day may have progressive ideas and hopes for a successful career, but this might be complicated by a tendency to false ideas or treacherous moves to win its points at any cost.

A man may laugh at women's intuition, but just let him try to decide which is the front and rear of his wife's hats.

In refusing to grant him a divorce, a judge told a man to hold his wife's hand frequently. That's one way to head off slaps.

RUBINOFF FLIES TO ANSWER CHARGE

PITTSBURGH, July 10 — Violinist Dave Rubinoff announced today he would fly to Pittsburgh from Encino, Calif., to deny charges he had tricked his partially-blind mother into signing over to him the luxurious home he purchased for her 17 years ago.

Mrs. Rubinoff filed suit in Pittsburgh common pleas court yesterday against the one-time Pittsburgh newsboy.

The suit charges that last June 6 Rubinoff took his 85-year-old mother to a notary and induced her to sign a paper which he explained would give him possession of the home after her death.

Mrs. Rubinoff learned later, however, the suit charged, that on June 7 he had recorded a deed turning the property over to him.

The suit also alleged that shortly afterward, advertisements appeared in Pittsburgh newspapers offering "Rubinoff's house for sale," and that many prospective buyers had appeared at the home.

Arrangements are for Tuesday and Thursday afternoons with buses leaving here at 1 o'clock and returning at 4:30 p. m., and each child will pay a ten-cent transportation charge plus the charges at the pool, the Youth Association bearing the additional costs of procuring the buses.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Migraine Is Challenge To Modern Medicine

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.
MIGRAINE with its devastating one-sided headaches, is one of the most perplexing of the problems of present-day medicine.

Just why certain apparently well people should be subjected to these periodic attacks of violent headache, nausea and vomiting is not definitely known but there does seem a tendency for this disorder to run in families.

Majority of Cases
In the majority of cases, migraine develops before the age of 20 and only rarely does it persist beyond 60.

This, together with the well-known fact that many women suffer from attacks just before or during the regular periods, has led to the theory that the disorder might be due to some disturbance of the glands of internal secretions, since these internal secretions are known to govern growth, the onset of maturity and old-age.

But while definite proof of this and all other ideas concerning the cause of the disorder are lacking, there is still much that can be done to relieve it.

Treating the Condition
Drs. Hugo T. Engelhardt, of Houston, Texas, and Vincent J. Derbes, of New Orleans, Louisiana, have outlined the procedure which they follow in treating patients with this condition. When the attack occurs, the patient is put to bed in a dark, quiet, well-ventilated room, and an ice pack is put on the painful area. If possible, the patient is given oxygen to breathe. They have found that this relieves 40 per cent of those suffering an attack. They then give a preparation known as ergotamine tartrate either by injection into a vein, under the skin, or by mouth. The dose used is that which is just sufficient to relieve the pain. The doctor will determine just what this is.

If sickness to the stomach and vomiting occur after the injection is given into the vein, a product known as atropine is administered. Sometimes, muscular cramps also develop which are relieved by massage. Ergotamine cannot be used in persons who have disorders affecting the arteries. If the attack continues, it may be necessary to give a mixture of glucose and salt solution by injection into the vein.

As a general rule, the physician does not treat an attack of migraine with a narcotic, such as morphine, but a sedative, or quieting drug, may be used with benefit.

While the basic over-all cause of migraine has yet to be discovered, it is sometimes possible to find factors which contribute to its occurrence in individual cases. For instance, some persons may be over-sensitive to some food. If the foods to which they are sensitive can be found and eliminated from the diet, the attacks may cease.

In certain cases, glandular disturbances such as lack of secretion from the thyroid, the ovaries, or the pituitary gland at the base of the brain may be factors. Treatment with glandular extracts may therefore be found to be useful.

People afflicted with migraine usually have a high intelligence and are very conscientious. Thus their work is usually of the exacting and responsible kind which brings nervous tension to a height. If these people can avoid strain and emotional upsets, their attacks, in many cases, will be less frequent.

One baby or small child is abandoned by parents or relatives every 15 minutes in the United States.

by the senate finance committee yesterday with Barkley, and Senators Lucas (D-Ill.) and Connally (D-Tex.) opposing it.

Barkley spent half an hour with Mr. Truman before making his announcement.

The bill comes up on the senate floor for consideration today.

The chamber cleared the way for action by passing the army-navy unification bill late yesterday. A few hours earlier the senate finance committee had approved the tax cutting measure by a 10 to 3 vote.

Republican backers of the bill, which would take effect next Jan. 1, were hopeful of driving it through by Saturday. If the bill can be delivered to the White House by Monday, the President could take his full 10 days to sign or veto it without interfering with congress' plan to adjourn July 26.

One Discord
The British press—with the sole exception of the Communist Daily Worker—enthusiastically acclaimed the princess' betrothal to the handsome, blond former prince of Greece who renounced his royal titles last March to become a British citizen.

The Times noted with satisfaction that Mountbatten, a distant cousin of King George VI and a nephew of Lord Mountbatten, Viceroy of India, "comes of the male line of one of the oldest dynasties of Europe."

Nationally Famous Harrisburg, Pa., Polo Team Here Sunday

Salem Club To Entertain Team Noted For "Heftiness" And Top Rating In Polo

One of the finest polo attractions ever to show in Salem will be the offering of the Salem Polo club when it tangles with the famed Harrisburg, Pa., West Shore club at the N. Ellsworth road field at 3 p. m. Sunday.

A large polo throng is expected to see the hefty, but nationally known, West Shore club in action here.

Boasting a stable of the best polo ponies ever exhibited in Salem, the Pennsylvanians recently returned from a tour of the south and east, during which they met and defeated some of the nation's top-ranking clubs.

Salem is expected to have an advantage over the visitors here Sunday in that the local field is considerably shorter and narrower than the regulation fields to which Harrisburg is accustomed.

Captain Jim Pidgeon plans to utilize the winning combination of Pete Votaw at No. 1 spot, Willie Smith at No. 2, Tony Shreen and Walt Fennel at No. 3 and 4, and himself on the No. 4 position.

This combination proved the most successful against Columbus Harbor Hills over the Fourth of July weekend and Pidgeon feels it will give the Salem club the best chance against the highly touted opposition this week.

Facing Pidgeon's quartet at the loss-in Sunday will be six foot seven inch Max Hempt at No. 2, his uncle, Dr. Hempt at No. 1, Frank Fraunfelder at No. 3 and Ben Hench at the No. 4 position.

The Harrisburg players all carry national ratings in polo and have at one time or another played with some of the east's leading teams.

Noted also for their weight, the team lineup reads like a Notre Dame forward wall.

Max Hempt is the tallest, his uncle goes over 260 pounds, Fraunfelder some 230 pounds and Hench a good 245 pounds.

The club horses will arrive here Saturday morning, 14 in all, and should be well rested before game time Sunday.

Salem's Earl Grate and Wallace Duncan will officiate with Charlie Stoddard as timekeeper.

BEN HOGAN, JIMMY DEMARET FAVORED IN TOLEDO TOURNEY

Towsomes Meet In $3,000 Inverness: Big Timers Begin Arriving

BY FRITZ HOWELL

TOLEDO, July 10.—The Toledo Inverness "you have to shoot a birdie to win" tournament gets under way today, with a $3,000 first prize hanging on the four-day best ball classic featuring 16 of the nation's top-flight golfers.

The 16 contestants, picked from the leading performers on the winter circuit, have been paired in twosomes, and each duo will meet each of the others in 18-hole match play, with the $3,000 event winding up Sunday.

Favored to cop the prize are Ben Hogan, the diminutive long-hitter, and Jimmy Demaret, the laughing boy of the links, who annexed the laurels in 1941 and 1946.

However, with seven newcomers in the "sweet 16" field, the two top flight money winners of the year were not expected to have too easy a time crashing into the first spot. Arrayed against them was plenty of tide talent, and for the first time in years the "plus and minus" contest was considered wide open.

The winners get a "plus" of the number of holes they finish "up" on the hole, and the losers get a similar "minus." Scores are carried over from match to match, and at the finish the pair with the greatest plus takes the plum.

Arrayed against the favored Demaret-Hogan combination are Sam Snead and R. Cary Middlecoff, Ed Furgol and George Schoups, Vic Ghezzi and Ed (Porky) Oliver, Lloyd Mangrum and Lawson Little, Herman Barron and Herman Kesser, Ellsworth Vines and Clayton Hedgner, and Lew Worsham and John Palmer.

The sizzling National league race picks up in the east with the aroused St. Louis Cardinals, now in fourth place, challenging the third place New York Giants in a night affair which opens a five-game series in three days; the fifth place Cubs tackle the pace-setting Dodgers in a doubleheader at Brooklyn and the sixth place Reds, only six games off the pace, tangle with the runner-up Braves in double-play, day and night contests at Boston. Pittsburgh's hapless Pirates and the fading Philadelphia Phils continue the battle of the cellar in a bargain bill at Quakertown.

Indians Now Seeking Second Negro Star

(By United Press)

CLEVELAND, July 10.—The Cleveland Indians today were scouting Sammy Jethroe, a fleet 300 plus hitter of the Cleveland Buckeyes of the Negro American league, who may become the second Negro to join the major leagues in a week.

Two Triple scouts, Bill Bradley and "Gyp" Lewis, watched Jethroe last night as he knocked out three hits to help his team beat the Chicago Giants in a double-header. Jethroe also stole two bases.

Officials of both the Indians and the Buckeyes refused to comment on a possible sale of the Negro star, but the Indians indicated last week after signing Larry Doby that they would hire another Negro player to "keep him company."

WRATHER ADMITS TRY TO PURCHASE CARDS FOR COAST

Producer Rumored To Be Seeking Cardinal Club For Los Angeles

(By United Press)

LOS ANGELES, July 9.—Jack Wrather, youthful film producer and Texas oil millionaire, said today he would try to buy the St. Louis Cardinals and move the National league baseball club to Los Angeles.

At St. Louis, Sam Breadon, chief stockholder of the Cardinals, informed of the plan, announced emphatically: "The World Champion Cardinal baseball club is not for sale at any price."

Wrather said he had instructed his attorney, Col. A. A. Garrett, Dallas, Tex., to make an investigation of the true value of the Cardinals and its chain of minor league clubs.

After his attorney has completed his investigation, expected within a week, Wrather plans to fly to St. Louis to confer with Breadon, chief stockholder of the Cardinals. Breadon has put a price of $4,000,000 on the Cardinals and the farm system, according to Wrather, who intimated any offer he made would be under that figure.

He would continue his film interests in Monogram and Allied Artists studios, as well as his oil business.

There have been several moves made recently to bring a major league club to Los Angeles.

Second Guessing

DEPARTMENT OF INFORMATION

Good news for Salem's tennis clan is the superb job of renovation at the Salem Country Club tennis courts, just completed this week.

The tennis committee at the club went into the court surface thing with great care and emerged with a new easy-to-play surface that is underlaid with a carefully tiled drainage system.

The courts have been completely re-graded, tile laid to facilitate the drainage problem, and a new surface, called "Sinkote," applied.

After some tedious hours of rolling and wetting, the courts are now ready for use, the committee reports.

Players who have already taken advantage of the new set-up report that the courts give an excellent and consistent bounce, are unusually easy on the feet and pleasing to the eye in the hot summer sun (what little we have seen so far).

Tournament play at the club promises to boom during August, what with rumors of a club tournament and possibly a "Salem open" floating about.

Gordon Scott, local enthusiast and among the best men with rackets in Salem, reports that matches are being arranged here with East Liverpool and Warren teams.

Besides Scott, Frank Carlross, John Mulford, Lloyd Gordon and Don Hammell are planning to make up the Salem tennis team.

The men report that the new courts will do a lot for the growth and improvement of the court game in Salem.

FROM THE LINKS

Latest hole-in-one reported in this district was shot at the Columbiana Valley Golf club, on the 142-yard No. 4 hole, by Bill Morgan, Jr., Lisbon druggist.

Young Bill, who formerly worked and the Saxons appear to be the only serious contenders for that No. 2 leg of the city title.

Whether the Saxons can continue their impressiveness this round remains to be seen.

The Crescents and Fratillas are blessed with a bit more potential power in the pitching department, so they would seem to be the logical chasers of the Jim Aldom outfit.

From here, however, it looks like the Diner in the American and the Deming outfit again in the National

ODDS AND ENDS

Rumors have started already that Ben Barrett has been offered the Youngstown Woodrow football job, recently vacated by Howard Hartman, who went to Colgate as Bixler's assistant.

Ben turned that job down years ago and probably would again if the offer did come.

It hasn't officially, as yet.

Chuck Mather of Hamilton, formerly of Leetonia, has been appointed director of Hamilton High athletics.

He's the man Fred Cope is dickering with for a Salem-Hamilton cage contest next year.

Patrolmen Searching For Panther Near Warren

WARREN, July 10 — Searching parties resumed the hunt today in nearby Bloomfield township for an animal described by frightened citizens as a black panther.

State highway patrolman, summoned after the animal's nocturnal cries aroused residents, combed wooded areas in the sector Tuesday and yesterday, but found only several unidentified tracks.

Orville West, who fired at the animal when it appeared in his back yard, insisted to police it was a panther.

"I've seen them before," Earl said. Several other residents expressed belief the intruder was a wildcat.

When His Idea Mohandas Gandhi derived the idea of non-violent resistance from reading Henry Thoreau's "On the Duty of Civil Disobedience," written when the latter was jailed for non-payment of taxes on his cabin at Walden Pond.
